BOSTONS IN A GREAT GAME. lighteen Thousand Persons Go Wild Over the Local Players' Triumph—Ballimores Win in the Teath Inning, and the Circinnatis Lose —Brooklyns Walloped for the Third Time.

No such crowd has attended a ball game this year as that which was present at the Polo Grounds restorday. There were easily 18,000 persons present, and they saw the New Yorks win a hard-earned and glorious victory from the Bostons. The contest wound up a most interesting series of seven consecutive games, of which three were local victories and four were defeats. The Bostons, by the way, had their lead reduced to 14 points over the Balti-mores, who scored the winning run at Philadelphia in the tenth inning. Chicago's triumph over the Cincinnatis served to make the task of overhauling the Cincinnatis somewhat easier for Joyce's men, who have now forty-four points to cut down. Anson's men gained on the Clevelands, who were smothered by the St. Louis team. Pittsburg, by defeating the Louisvilles, took seventh place, the Philadelphias, meanwhile, dropping to ninth. The Brooklyns lost their third straight game to the Washingtons, who are only eleven points behind them. The results:

Mew York, 6; Boston, 4. Washington, 7; Brooklyn, 4.
Baltimore, 11; Philadelphia, 10. Chicago, 10; Cincinnati, 9. St. Louis, 10; Cleveland, 5 Pittsburg, 6; Louisville, ! THE RECORD.

NEW YORK, 6; BOSTON, 4. There was no doubt about the New Yorks' victory over the Bostons at the Polo Grounds yesterday afternoon, and 18,000 cranks went simply wild over Joyce and his men. It was a beautiful exhibition of the national game, cleverly played, honestly won, and gamely lost. No kicking marred the sport, and the real merits of the rival teams were, therefore, fairly tested, Before the game began George Davis complained of a lame leg. He feared that his disability might handicap his team, but upon being urged to go in by Manager Joyce, he readily consented to do his best. And such ball as he played! Play after play was accomplished by him at oritical points, until the crowd cheered the plucky fellow so vociferously that he forgot all bout his lameness. Gleason and Van Haltren also made some superb plays. Joyce's presence was also felt, in spite of a couple of excusable errors, for he led his side at the bat with two

But Rusie, of course, was the star, and to him 'rooting" thousands looked for the bulk of the victory. For six innings the big fellow time exactly eighteen men faced him and one of them got to first on a scratch hit which did not materialize into a run. Then Amos had occasion because of a throw into the crowd by Collins. and the journey so exhausted him that he lost his effectiveness enough to let the Bostons make a hair-raising finish. The stands were packed to overflowing and several thousands stood around the ropes when the battle began. Hamilton, the first Bostonian put a difficult fly near the left foul line, but Davis, in spite of his gimp leg, made a wonder-ful running catch. Tenney and Long were quickly bowled over, and then the cheering thousands broke loose as Van Haltren's drive, which Hamilton misjudged, developed into a three-bagger. It was a run sure, the believed, but Lewis, the Amherst College boy, wouldn't have it, and Van Haltren was left in his tracks. It was a case of three pop flies by the Bostons in the second, Rusie showing some blinding curves and speed. Then, amid a wonderful demonstration of joy, the New Yorks secred their first run. Stahl caught Gloason's smash almost off the heads of the people in right field, and received generous applause. Holmes walked to first on the only base on balls of the day and the next moment Big Bill Clark swatted fearth hit over Hamilton's head to swatted fearth hit over Hamilton's head to a swatted fearth hit over Hamilton's head to a swatted fearth hit over Hamilton's head to a swatted fearth hit over Hamilton. The fourth Hamilton bunted, and as Joyce threw the ball past Clark, the fleet footed Hostonian landed on third. Davis then gobbled a scorcher from Tenney and doubled up Hamilton at third. Long drove what thousands believed would be a safe hit to left, but again Davis distinguished himself by making a miraculous catch while running with his back to the ball. These plays alone, were enough to discourage the Bostons' but they kept plugging shead with no signs of letting up.

In the last half of the lifth Joyce's men began to solve Lowis. Warner beat out a safe drive to Lowe, and Rusie pushed a beauty into right. As Warner got to third, Stahl's wide throw got past collins, and Jack come in. Rusie, meaning the Bostons's but they kept plugging shead with no signs of letting up.

WASHINGTON, 7; BROOKLYN, 4, Washington, Aug. 14.—The home team won its third straight from Brooklyn to-day by unching four hits for eight total bases in the fifth, which, with the assistance of a base on balls and an out, netted four runs. All the visitors except Schoch played listless ball. Mercer was in due form, and the hits off him were not sufficiently clustered to cut any figure.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 14.—This was "McPhee Day" at League Park, the date set some time ago for the formal presentation of the fun. to the great second baseman as a testimonial from citizens generally. McPhee rec-ived a check for $1,756.50. Starting for the tenth hole the win-ners had a lead of 4 holes, but Hayen and Bacon, by fine golf, reduced the lead to 1 up and 2 to play. The match was not finished until the last green was reached. For the winners Miss King played beautiful golf, her driving was straight and steady, and no professional could have played more deadly approach shots. Miss King is left-handed, and played with a long, clean swing. To her is due all the credit of winning to-day's match. Harrison is in hopes that she may be induced to take part in the women's championship.

WRENN BEATEN AT TENNIS. Nisbet, the English Expert, Outplays the Cham CHICAGO, Aug. 14.-Nisbet appeared to strike his gait in the Wyandot invitation tennis tour-nament to-day and put up a brand of tennis that "Bob" Wrenn was unable to fathom. America's champion lost his only match by a score of 6-4, 5-7, 6-4. Everything was hurried, the players having but one hour to complete the final round and catch the train for Newport. The three sets between Nisbet and Wrenn were played off with a dash that showed pretty tennis. Nesbit outplayed his opponent in two ways at hand drives seemed effective. His placing also surpassed Wrenn's, the Englishman being credited with 47 clean passes to his opponent's 36

ited with 47 clean passes to his opponent's 36. The crowd was kept on edge the entire time, loudly applauding the pretty drives of both men. It was more brilliant tennis than any of the tournament, excepting the Eaves-Larned match.

Eaves won his match easily from Collins, so that on the final day the Englishmen swept the boards. Wrenn's defeat leaves three tied for first place, Larned, Nisbet, and Wronn having lost one match apiece, and the enforced departure of the men leaves the McCormick trophy without an owner.

The Englishmen and Wrenn will meet Larned at Newport and decide upon some way of settling the question. Summary:

Nishet heat Wrenn, 6-4, 6-7, 6-4; Eaves beat Nistet heat Wrenn, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4; Eaves best Collins, 6-3, 6-4.

The score of the playing to the present time is as collows:

Half Raters Racing on the Great South Bay. BAY SHORE, Aug. 14 .- The final race for the Great South Bay Yacht Club Cup, for half raters, was sailed this morning over the course of the Penatuquit Corinthian Yacht Club. It was also the first race of tw for the handsome cup offered to the half raters of the Penatuquit Club by the Half Century Club, of which Henry Marwell, of Brooklyn, is President, and Miss Anna Pinkerton, Honorable Secretary. The wind was a man Pinkerton, Honorable Secretary. The wind was good, giving to the skippers an excellent opportunity for the display of clever seamanship. All fin shed except Pinke in the following order: Helen, R. B. Sydam; Dearle, Louie Bibb.

The second ran was said at 3:30 o'clock this atternoon in a strong southwest breeze and heavy sea. All five of the boats started. Pinkle carried away her most and everything went clean off to leeward. Dearle, while having the best position, was unfortunate enough to stand too far in shore, running on her boars, and jamming it. This put her so far behind that she withdrew. The w ni was so heavy and the leads opronounced that at the end of the second round the committee stopped the race. The result was: Helen first, Surprise second, Golf Widow thrd. The Helen, which easily outsailed the other boat, after being measured, was found to be over the class by 28-100 of a foot. While the Regatta Committee has not announced its decision, it is believed it will be the Surprise. Henry Marwell, of Brooklyn, is President, and Mir
